LIFE'S A BEACH

No hot air is needed to make this lampshade. This beach ball lampshade is created using a special treatment that turns the inflatable into a rock-like material on the inside and leaves its outside untouched. This transformation allows the inflatable to be converted into a marvelous lamp shade, leaving onlookers bewildered as to how it was possible.

99 BOTTLES OF...

If only all light sources were created from wasteful plastic drink bottles like this one, our landfills may not be suffering from overflow. Made by an award winning eco-artist, this light calls upon what may have ended up in the trash to create a light fixture for your house. Equally beautiful as it is eco-friendly, the bottles used to make the sculpture are collected, cleaned and sandblasted to provide stunning materials for the lamp.
